CRIMSON LOG 1996

We Celebrate Our Diversity

NEW BEDFORD HIGH SCHOOL
230 Hathaway Blvd.
New Bedford, MA 02740

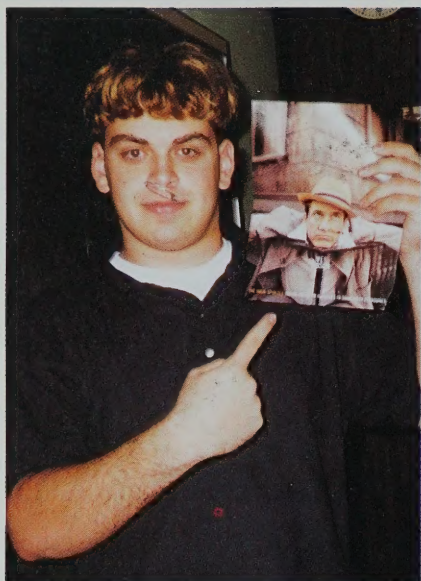

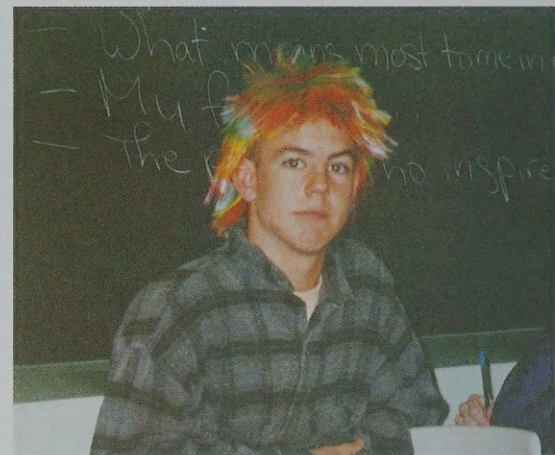

It is often said that a child's life is simple and carefree.

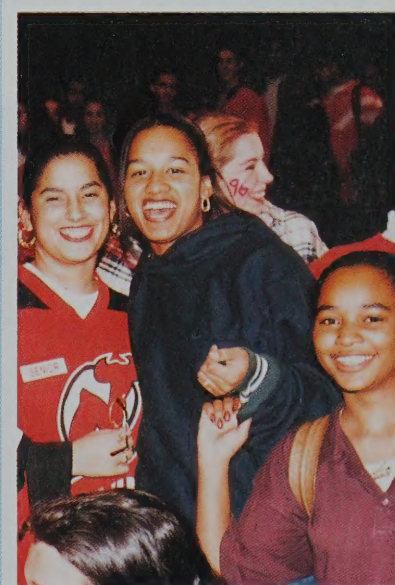

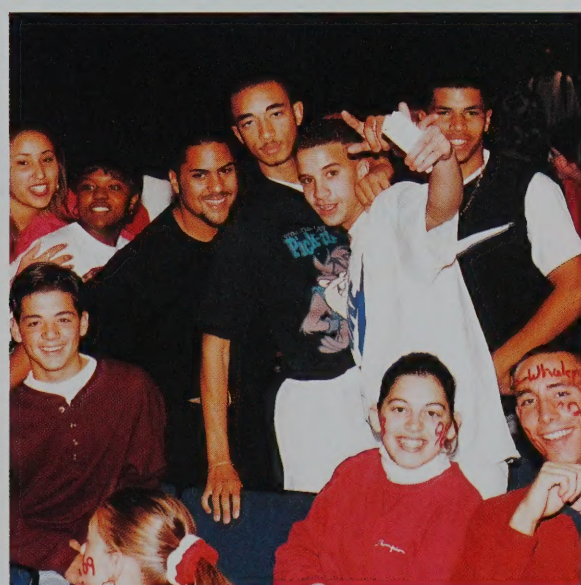

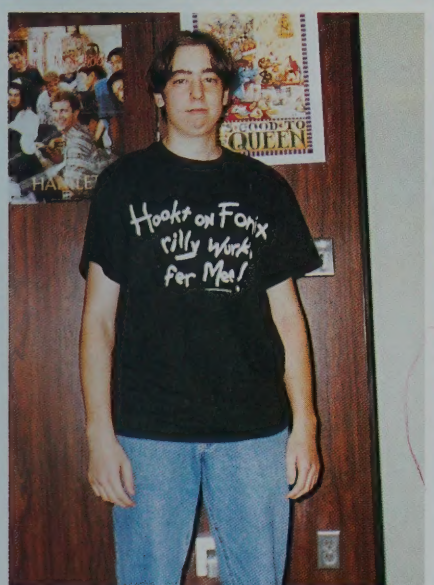

If this is true, why did ours seem so difficult?

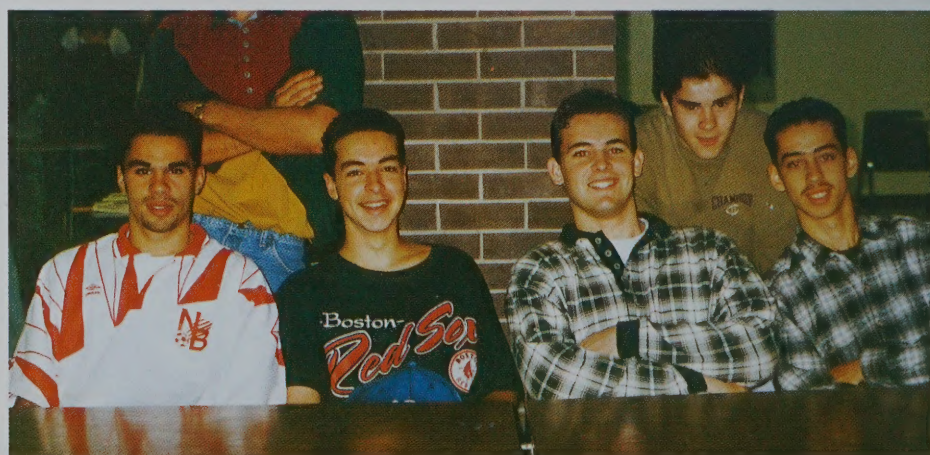

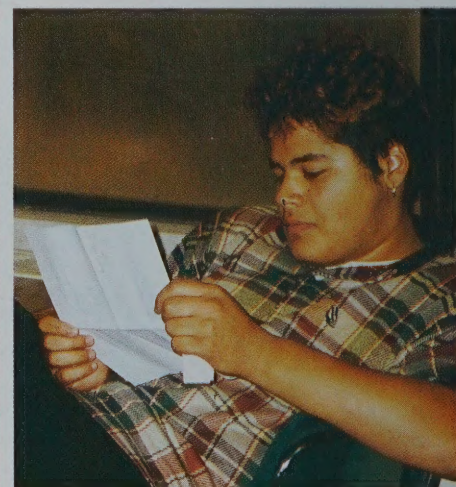

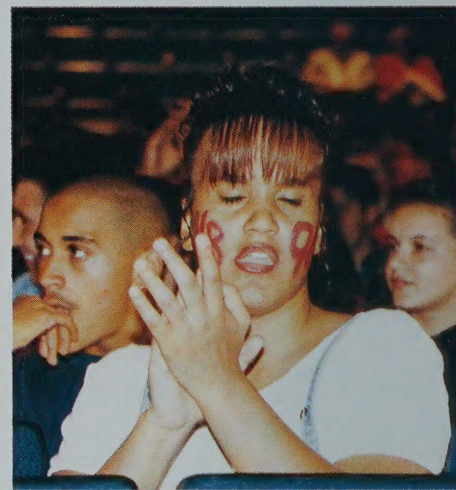

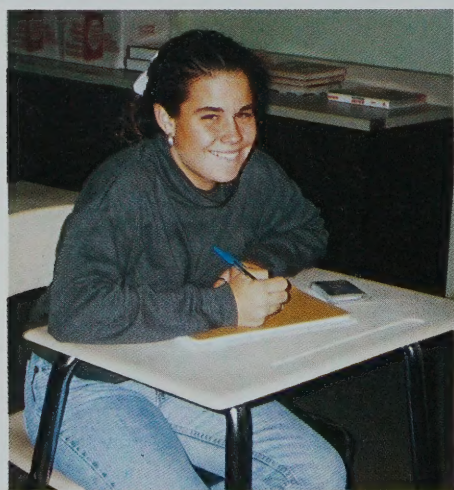

We were frustrated because we lacked the power of adulthood. But while we struggled with our parents and fought for our freedoms . . . ,

... our lives began to change and become more complex. Yes, we are becoming adults, and reality is setting in.

In reality, we have all grown up with resoundingly different values, beliefs, and ideas. Because of this, each and every one of us perceives reality in a unique way. Living with such diversity is not always easy. It can be difficult to understand the thoughts and actions of someone who has grown up in a different environment.

However, our diversity was, and is, the key to our success. It has strengthened our character, expanded our minds, and gave NBHS its unique outlook on the world, on life, and on reality.

We cannot and will not stop here ..

— this is just our beginning.

Junior Banquet

... An Anticipated Event

We're stepping out in style and getting ready to make our big entrance.

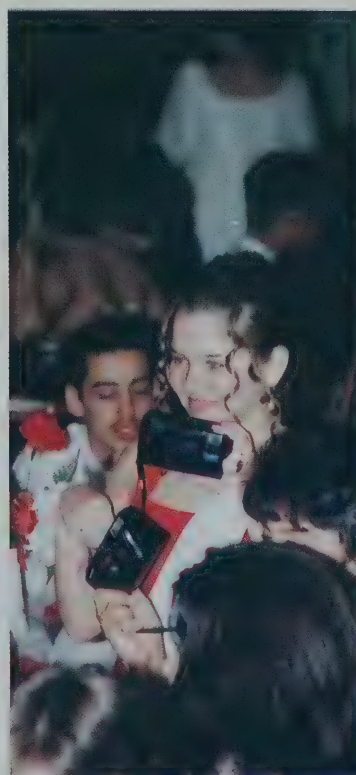

Though we try to remain nonchalant, some of us can't help mugging the camera.

At last, our Junior Banquet had arrived. Previously, the gala event had been celebrated in May, but we had to wait until June 16 to become bona fide seniors. When the day finally arrived we took full advantage of the occasion. We glittered, we sparkled, we danced until our feet felt like they were going to fall off, and then we danced some more. Before the night was over, we realized that becoming a senior takes a lot out of a person.

Class president John Tweedie addressed the class at their first senior event. Mr. Longo expressed how much he would miss us, but once we were entrusted with the whale, our natural energy burst forth into a great party.

Being caught by the photographer in the presence of lovely ladies is always a nice surprise.

Sometimes we just HAVE to take a break from all the fun.

No doubt about it, Tim & Tom let us know that they are up for some serious fun.

Melanie & Kevin display the style that make them one of our favorite senior couples.

Three cool cats and six funky-divas smile with style.

Our newly crowned seniors patiently wait for the festivities to begin.

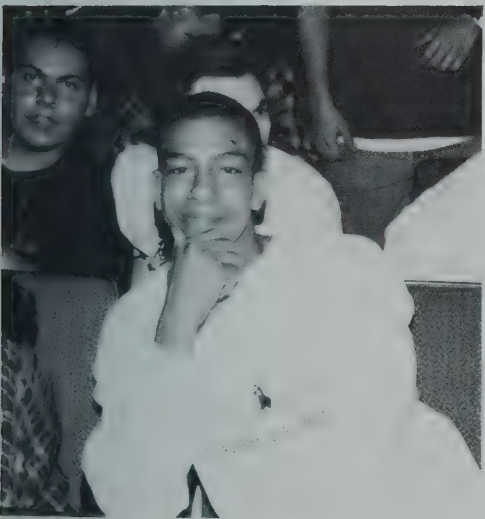

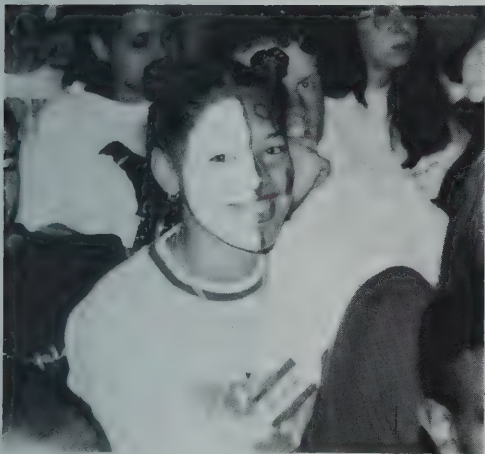

Senior Assembly

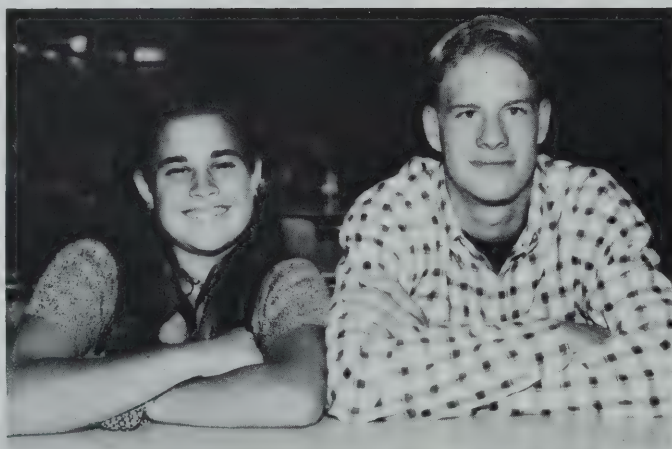

It was at our first Senior Assembly in September that it became up to us to set the example. The school's image now rested on our collective shoulders. More than that, we were given the year's proposed itinerary in one of John's outstanding speeches, Matt Vasques informed us about the yearbook, and we were told of the benefits of the senior class fundraiser — magazines. We, the new senior class, could handle these responsibilities with room to spare. We met the Brazilian exchange student Joana Chagas, congratulated our top three senior students and rejoiced in our new found status.

John, Mark, Tommy and Didi — are proud of the accomplishments of the Class of '96.

IN REALITY

SENIORS

WE ARE THE
DAYDREAM BELIEVERS

By the look on the faces of the seniors we're all geared up for graduation.

We've been together for what seems like an eternity sharing the experiences of a lifetime — our education. We dreamt of freedom, independence, and the chance to prove ourselves in "the real world." Now it's no longer a dream it's reality. Through our true test of time, this year's senior class possesses the strength, dedication, and style to succeed in all facets of life.

Boys face an Uphill Climb

The Boys Cross Country Team had an impressive 1995 season, finishing with a record of 4-3. The team's victories included two impressive wins over Taunton and Durfee. The Whalers also handed losses to Barnstable and Bridgewater-Raynham. The team was led by Senior Co-Captain and Standard-Times Player of the Year Ryan Charpentier. He placed first in several of the races and made great improvements in his individual times. Also contributing to the Whaler's success was senior Co-Captain Peter Hamel, Dan Gonet, and Chris Fauteux.

Coach Gardiner was certainly a key to the team's success. His dedication and commitment helped the Whalers greatly. He summed up the team with the following: "The guys have a good attitude and they showed some good initiative."

The boys wrapped up their season by taking second place at the Big Three meet. Some of the younger contributors to the team included juniors David Luckraft and Michael McCoy, and sophomore Steve Wheeler. These runners will help to continue the New Bedford High tradition in the future.

The boys sprint from the line with victory in mind.

With rhythmic strides, Pete sprints for home.

Girls Sweep Big 3 Undefeated

Through hard work, dedication, and determination, this year's girls cross country team came out on top. The team impressively completed their season undefeated, while successfully capturing the Big 3 Title.

Leading the team was senior, and co-captain Christy Silva. She was an outstanding contributor to the team, placing first in nearly every meet. Also adding on to the success of the team was senior co-captain Didi deSousa, seniors Lisa DaCosta, Nikki Dussault, and Chiara Gelinas.

Guiding them along were coaches Steve Gardiner, Jim Mandly, and Richard Pires, instilling confidence in each girl. With Coach Gardiner's "Expect to Win" attitude, the girls never had negative thoughts. The girls attribute the success of an undefeated season to his advice.

The accomplishments of this year's cross country team led them to a fourth place win at the Eastern Mass. Division 1 meet, allowing them to continue on towards the State Finals.

Other contributors to the Whaler girls team were juniors Vikki Viera, Romy Cruz, and Beth Carr, and sophomores Julie and Heidi Costa, with a strong team behind them, the team should "Expect to Win" next year!

Enduring a tough schedule

This year, the Field Hockey season was an uphill battle. The girls faced many powerful teams, but the games were well played and evenly matched. Consuming vast amounts of spirit, energy, and skill, they improved as the season progressed.

The girls, led by the captains Brooke Sweeney and Jill Grimes, refused to let their past defeats slow them down and never lost courage. Even when the goalie Rebecca Melanson became ill halfway through the year, Monica Viegas came through as a capable replacement. The midfielders, Maryann deMelo, Kellie Dussault, Jill Grimes, and Christine Raposo were a remarkably brilliant collective and proved themselves to be completely prepared for the challenge.

The girls had quite a job against such hard-hitting teams as Falmouth, but a defense led by Heidi Pettey managed to hold their own. Offense made major breakthroughs with help from Cynthia Lithgow, Caitlin McKenna, and Rebecca Melanson. Kyana Gordon was an especially strong forward and was New Bedford's highest scorer. Altogether the team proved triumphantly resilient and with such resounding spirit the future looks bright. If the team carries on the tradition of high energy and good sportsmanship, we can expect a brighter future for the N.B.H.S. Field Hockey team.

Silencing The Critics

The 1995 NBHS Football Team was cast in the shadow of the glorious success of the previous teams even before the season began. Students, local writers, and perhaps the coaches themselves had little hope for anything more than a mediocre season as the team started summer practice. But as the season progressed, the headlines changed from criticism to praise. With dedication, poise, and a little muscle, New Bedford once again dominated the competition en route to its third straight Super Bowl appearance.

New Bedford's players at nearly every position had big shoes to fill, but our students stepped up to the challenge. A high powered offense anchored by junior Angelo DeBartoli led the team to a 4-0 start, quickly silencing the critics.

Sean Gomes, Dwight Majette, Josh Glicksman, and Tim Perry took turns at the Running Back positions, while Mark DeBrito and Tyrone Goodine were DeBartoli's top wide receivers and were both selected to the Eastern Massachusetts Division I all-star team. Also making the All-Star team were Josh Glicksman Defensive tackle Dan Benoit and Guard Scott Bryant.

As the Super Bowl approached the players and coaching staff looked back at the season that was initially tagged as a rebuilding year. Although the final result was not what they had hoped for, the surprising success of the Whalers gave the school something to be proud of.

Par Excellence

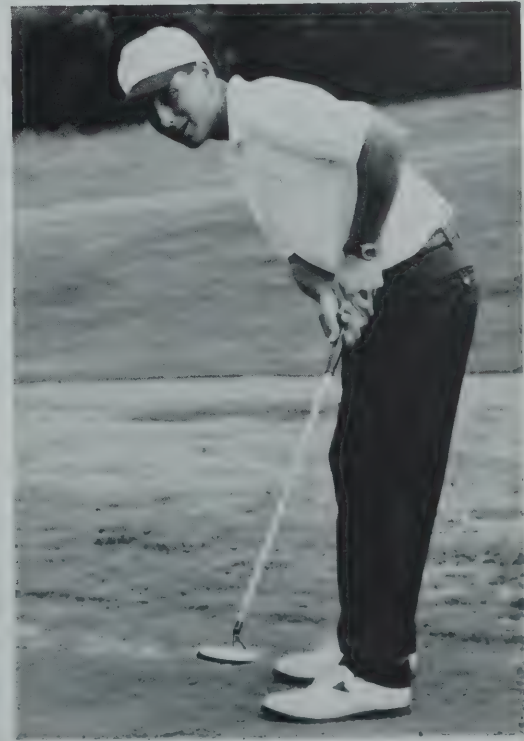

After a few sub-par seasons, the Whaler golf team lived up to its potential this year, capping off a successful season with Jim McGlynn's phenomenal 32 against Big Three rival Brockton. The sophomore was the number one golfer for the entire season, tearing up the course and earning low-scoring honors several times. The Whalers also displayed their depth, which is the key to victory in golf, with strong performances from all the team members. Ben Ruben, Jay Reedy, and Scott Hendriques shot consistently low scores throughout the season. Kevin Borges, Andrew Nelson, Seniors Ed Welch, Derek Pedro and co-captain Jonathan Pell added to the depth of the team. Coach Jack Crompton, in just his fourth year of coaching the team, guided the young but talented group to victory.

Needless to say, this is not the end of the Whalers success. With a great coach and a strong nucleus of underclassmen, it's safe to say things will continue to improve for the NBHS golf team.

OLEEY-Oley, Oley, Oley: Big Three Champs

This year's Boys' Soccer team ended their season with an amazing record of 16-4-2. They captured the Big Three championship and qualified for the state tournament. They advanced to the South Sectional championships, but lost to Weymouth, 1-0, in a snow storm. Under the guidance of Coach Manuel Matos, the team made it that far, but mother nature denied the title. The team was under the leadership of four captains this season, Joey Medeiros, Ben Figueiredo, Eric Plant, and Erik Kieltyka, who all helped the team do as well as they did.

Ben Figueiredo, a midfielder, was voted the Player of the Year by the Eastern Massachusetts Coaches Association and also had a profile in Boston Herald. Ben finished the season with 19 goals and 21 assists for 40 points. Joey Medeiros, a forward, had 17 goals and 11 assists for 28 points for the season. Joey finished an outstanding four-year career with 59 goals and 32 assists for 91 points. Ben Figueiredo and Joey Medeiros were the leading scorers for the team. Ben was named to the All-American High School Soccer Team. Goalie Erik Kieltyka's season ended with just allowing six goals, with six shut-outs. Erik Kieltyka alternated with Tommy Martins, a junior, who also had an outstanding season.

All-Stars Figueiredo, Medeiros, Eric DaCosta and Luke Glicksman were all named to the E-Mass All-Star team by the coaches. Other important contributors to the team were Rui Araujo, Mike Medeiros, Jeff Botelho, Hugo Gomes, Eric Plant, Keith DaCosta, John Gomes, and Paul Macaroco. The Whalers will lose some outstanding players, but will have most of the team back next year, like Tommy Martins, Paul Macaroco, and Eric DaCosta. This team promises to give coach Matos that long awaited State Title.

Keeping Spirits High

Though not always shown by the scoreboard, New Bedford girls played well all season. They never got discouraged and always gave 100%. The team finished with the strong leadership of its' 7 seniors. Returning seniors along with co-captains, Sue Constantine, a varsity player since her sophomore year. She has done a superb job, both defensively as a goalie and offensively as a forward. Jami Gonsalves was great on defense and contributed to the strong chemistry of the team. At the backup goalie position, the Whalers got solid play from Kelly Fisher who came up with some outstanding saves. Michelle Coelho, Ines Roque, Debbie Pacheco and Monica Lopes were the Whaler strikers that provided a powerful offense.

They will look to the strong force of returning Juniors for leadership next season. Among those returning are Kristen Azavedo, Naomi Pappas, Wendy Brassard, Sue Pereira, Brandi LaFrance and Michelle Lopes, who are all on defense. Also returning are Erica Healy and Sherry Barboza for the front line; midfielders Beth Mattos, Anne Connolly, and Debra Souza.

The Whalers showed great improvement this season and have a promising future.

Girls ride wave of success: Big Three Champs

The Girls' Swimming Team proved once again their superior athletic abilities, completing an outstanding season and winning the Big Three Conference against Brockton and Durfee.

This year, Timothy Curry moved up from Asst. Coach to Head coach of the Girls' Swimming Team, a very advantageous move, as the team showed a great deal of improvement under Coach Curry's supervision. The team's captains, Martha Olivier, Julie Hamel, and Corie Deus, worked along with their coach and teammates to lead the team to victory.

Julie Hamel and Antonia Cardoza both showed personal improvement this season, Julie breaking her record for the 200-yard freestyle.

The standard Times recognized Julie Hamel, Anne Hamel, Karen Fahy and Elizabeth Delacy as All-Stars, and Elizabeth Kalife, Martha Olivier, and Lynn Burns received Honorable Mentions. Antonia Cardoza was given the honor of being a Standard Times Athlete of the Year, and was known by all to be a strong athlete and leader.

The girls volleyball season started off on the wrong foot when Karen Azar, senior tri-captain, went down with a torn ligament half-way through the first game. Karen's injury shook the team and Dartmouth captured the victory. But the Whalers, ever resilient, regained their habitual spirit and won the next six games. By the end of the season, the record was 15 wins to 5 losses mostly due to the efforts of the starters Sarah Marder, Heather Pinto, Christina Ackah, Elizabeth Margine, Jill Paquette, Marcie Letendre, Raven Pina, and Allyson Vasconcelles. Sarah Marder and Heather Pinto were the outside hitters; Christine Ackah and Elizabeth Margine played the middle hitter positions; Raven Pina and Allyson Vasconcelles were the teams defensive specialists. Jill Paquette was the weekside hitter and Marcie Letendre was the setter.

Together the team was nearly unbeatable. They trounced Dartmouth in the Quaters and faced their nemesis Barnstable with energy and determination in the semifinals and made a good showing. Even though they didn't make the finals the team made us proud. They displayed the dedication and teamwork all successful teams possess and proved themselves to be true champions.

Shooting for Success

The Whalers' basketball team had another rugged, successful season. The team ended the season with an outstanding record, with the leadership of Coach Ed Rodrigues behind them. The Coach thought that no one could fill the golden shoes of Marcus Wills, but he was wrong. The leaders this season were Mark DeBrito, Dwayne Pina, and Christian Stevens, they led the team through a very successful season.

Dwayne Pina was injured mid-season with a broken wrist, but still managed to keep the team's spirit high. Mark DeBrito and Marques Houtman also made great contributions to the team's successful season, while Dwayne Pina was missed as point guard. Mark DeBrito and Christian Stevens teamed up in the starting front court. Marques Houtman and John Fernandes were the solid shooters for the team. Sam Ackah was the shot-blocker and Dwight Majette backed up Pina at the point. Jason Perry, Eric Taylor and Mike Reiniche also provided a great deal of help off the bench. Tim Perry was the main 3-point shooting threat.

Other than a few losses against Brockton and Gonzaga High the team prevailed as victors. Therefore, between the team's great offense, defense, determination, and motivation the 1996 season will be looked back on with pride.

This year's girls basketball team has had an extremely impressive season. Led by co-captains Janelle Ferguson and Karen Azar the Whaler girls were on the ball this year. Although Karen was not able to participate physically due to a knee injury obtained while playing volleyball, she played a tremendous role in the success of the team. Cheering from the sidelines and attending practice daily she provided the girls w/all the motivation they needed to take them to the top. Janelle had an extremely strong season averaging 20 pts. per game and became the go-to person of the Whalers offense. On defense Janelle, teamed with Tiffany Goodine & Christine Ackah, ripped down rebounds & struck fear into the hearts of all opponents. Janelle, Tiffany, and Christina combined for an extremely powerful offense and used their height advantage for crashing the boards. Seniors, Tricia Breton and Denise Henderson did an outstanding job at their positions. Coach Bob Foster looked to his talented junior corps consisting of Katie Desroches, Kristen Fleming, Elizabeth Mangini, Raven Pina and Jessica Suarez to fill in the gaps. Sophomores, Shawna Briggs, Marcie Letendre and Debra Souza also played an important part in the team's accomplishments. Debbie had big shoes to fill this season taking over for former floor general, Shaylene Gonzales. She did an outstanding job and the team can attribute much of its success to her expert ball-handling. With an impressive record of 11-5 NBHS was a force to be reckoned with throughout the season.

Balancing skill and effort

This year's Girls' Gymnastics Team faced a challenging season, yet had the determination to persevere. In a sport of balance & grace, the Whalers showed they had plenty of class in the competitions. The Whalers' victories earned included those over Case, Nauset, and Nantucket. When it was all said and done, the Whalers emerged with a record of 3-6.

Cheryl Prevost & Heidi Pettey were the team's two seniors. Cheryl proved once again why she is the best in the area, achieving highest scores meet after meet. A few of Cheryl's record-breaking performances include a total of 33.6 points in one meet against B-R, a school record of 9.0 in vaulting against Case. Other strong team members included co-captain Heidi the team returns for next year.

The Ice Hot Whalers

The Whaler Hockey team has kept up the tradition of Whaler Excellence. The team had a great season with a very successful record, with the leadership of Ken Gouveia and Asst. Coaches, Shawn Tavares and Paul Brassels behind them.

The boys really gave it their all this season, with the leadership of their captains, defenseman Erik Kieltyka and goalie Keith DaCosta. The Whalers showed a lot of experience up front and the defense was young, but very talented. The goaltending was in the very capable hands of senior Keith DaCosta, who had a very strong season. The defense was led by seniors Erik Kieltyka and Scott Stalter, with sophomores Dave Ahola and Larry Medeiros, freshman Randy Raposo and Jay Caldas, a junior. Up front were three veterans, led by Derek Medeiros, Seamus Galligan, and Matt Sylvia and the second line, Kevin Allain, Jimmy Kendall, and Jay Caldas, with this team it is no wonder that they had a successful season.

Who's got the chamois?

The New Bedford High School Swim Team does not have any of the advantages that some schools might, such as money for coaches or summer practices, but this season the teams gluteus maximi really got a workout. They practiced an average of 14 hours a week. It paid off. The season's score was 12-0 and they placed 2nd in the South Sectional Championship meet at North Quincy High School.

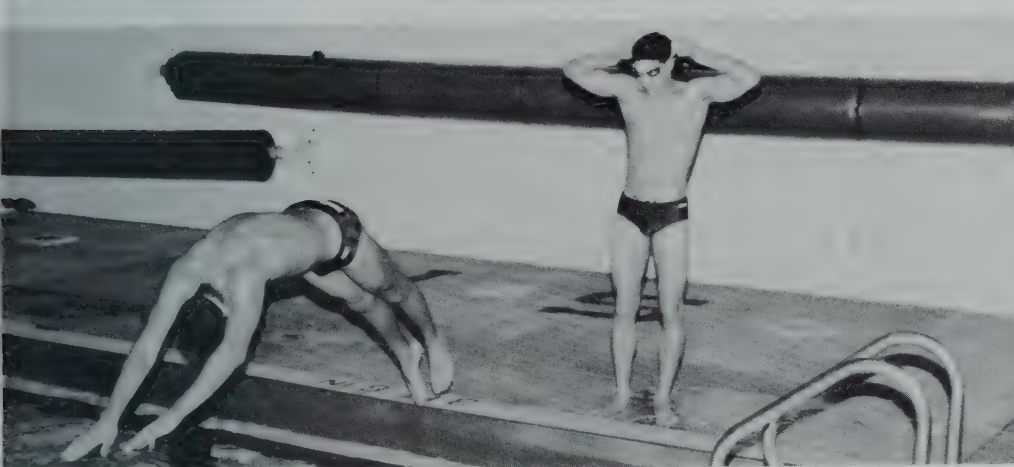

The NBHS Swim Team has always been one of the region's best, and this year was no exception. Led by co-captains Matt Hotte and Tom Jupin and star swimmers Adam Cardoza, Mark Carvalho, Koby Verran, and MaNNY Ortiz who set the school record in the 100 meter butterfly, the team surpassed its previous successes. Seventeen exceptional swimmers participated in the South Sectional meet including those already mentioned and Neil Cabral, Greg Pilling, Chris Bowcock, Nick Perry, Andy McKay, Jon Taber, Bryan Lawless, Dan Marshall, and Shawn Harding who were the only two freshmen to make sectionals for swimming. Junior John Araujo is the team's best diver; he placed 1st overall at the Sectional meet. Adalberto Perez, also a diver, placed 12th. The team really gave it their all — nearly every one of them shaved their heads for better times.

Overall, the team was truly remarkable for its dedication, persistence, and team spirit which is why they're undefeated.

Let's Make Tracks

The "95-96" boys' indoor track team had a very successful season. They proved themselves to be a cut above their competition, with a season of personal bests and team triumphs. Behind the spirit and stamina of the team were those seniors who gave their respective events their all. Leading the team were tri-captains Ryan Charpentier, Josh Glicksman, and Peter Hamel, whose outstanding leadership skills led their teammates to a 5-1 winning season. Some of the contributing seniors were Scott Bryant and Josh Glicksman in the shot-put event, Ron Barboza in the 300 and high jump, and Ed Welch in the 55-meter hurdles and the high jump.

Other supporting seniors were Hugo Gomes in the 55 meters, Chris Fauteux in the 1000, and Brian Petipas in the 55-meters. There were a lot of underclassmen who helped make the team a success. The juniors were led by Nelson Riviera, David Luckraft, and Steve Rebelo, while Ryan Barker, Yusef White, and Clint Huston led the sophomores. Each one had remarkable times in their individual events.

All in all, it was a wonderful farewell season for the seniors, and it looks like there will be many promising seasons to come.

Stretching for success.

Strides of Achievement

This year's Girls' Indoor Track Team proved to be strong. There was definitely a total team effort shown throughout the season. Tri-captains DiDi DeSousa, Vivienne Gomes, and Christy Silva displayed leadership and encouragement among their teammates and taught the underclassmen what good sportsmanship was all about.

Leading the Whaler girls were Vivienne Gomes and Barika Barboza in the hurdle event. Vivienne showed outstanding performance in the dash along with Christine Raposo, who also ran the 300 and competed in the high jump. Cinthia Lithgow and Patricia Rodrigues also ran with great agility in the dash. Lauren Ventura showed dedication toward improvement in the shot put. Also contributing to the total teams effort were Gorette Coelho, Lisa DaCosta, and Nikki Dusault in the 1000, and Christy Silva and Chiara Gelinas in the mile, and Didi DeSousa in the two mile.

Frustrating, challenging, hilarious, exasperating, grueling, joyous and rewarding. Our four years have given us all these emotions and more.

The yearbook staff went through all of these. The frustration of twenty people working together on a huge project where anything that could go wrong did go wrong; the challenge of selecting a theme; the hilarious moments when we would have been working instead we had fits of insane laughter over the dumbest things; the grueling exasperation for a deadline we had to meet; and the joyous feeling that was experienced when a deadline was mailed off, but in the end this rewarding labor of love will hold our most treasured memories.

As editor-in-chief of the yearbook, I found that it takes a lot of dedication and hard work to make something like this happen. It was a great challenge. I'd like to thank all the editors for their hard work and the staff members who were always there. Most importantly I'd like to thank Ms. Borden for guiding me through the maze of emotions and accomplishment. In the years to come as you look through this collection of memories some may bring a smile to your face or a tear to your eye.

Whalers topple Hilltoppers 27-15

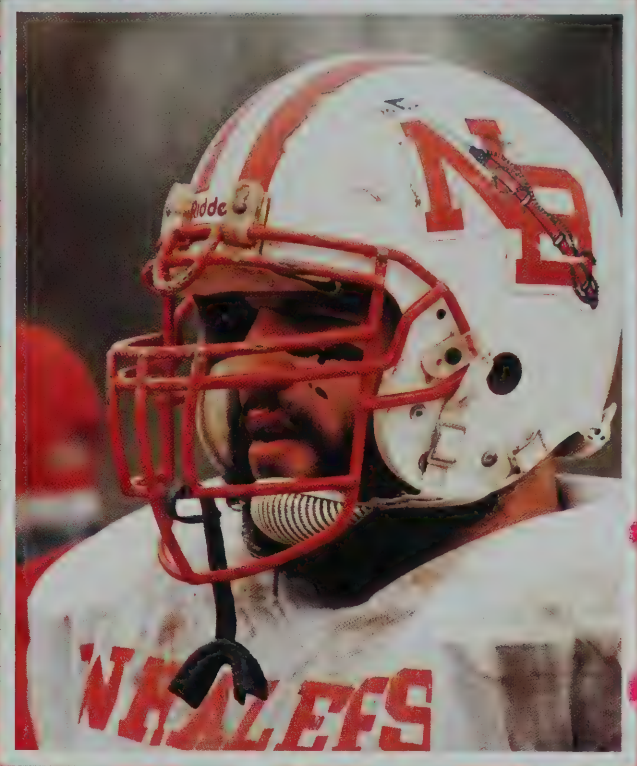

The NBHS Whalers handed the Durfee Hilltoppers a platter of humble pie for their Thanksgiving Day feast, defeating Durfee on their home turf, MacAldrich Field. The 101st meeting with our longstanding rivals was one of the best in our shared history; the Whalers came through in the crunch after trailing 14-15 at the half to take command in the 4th quarter. Bringing home a 27-15 victory made this a true day of thanksgiving.

The ever loyal Whaler fans brave bitter cold weather and a belated feast to support our hard-working team.

BANQUET

to Remember

As our second formal event as a class approached, our excitement of being Seniors grew to a new level. Our Senior Banquet helped us realize how far we had come, and how little time we had until graduation. The Senior Banquet was more than just a chance to have a good time with fellow classmates, it was considered by many the official start of the seniorities.

When is the only time you could see an otherwise normal student attend class in PJ's, or walk the halls in bellbottoms and a moonring? Spirit Week, of course, when school spirit can make a student dress up in the wackiest of outfits. Whether it was Pajama Day, Mix & Match day, or the ever traditional Red & White Day, our students were able to gather up enough courage to participate.

Turn up the heat — the Majorettes are ready for the bonfire.

On Thanksgiving Eve, a night rich in tradition fro NBHS students, the Class of '96 huddled around the blazing Buttonwood bonfire for perhaps the last time. The day began just as any other, but soon our spirited emotions began to surface.

First, we rallied in the gymnasium after an early release (Yipee!) from school. Then, we soaked up the festive atmosphere of the parade and bonfire. Before the night was over, we knew in our hearts our football team would come through on Thanksgiving Day with yet another victory over rival Durfee.

As advice goes, these are words to live by.

The Ambassadors club won first place for their entry promoting "good will" toward Durfee.

Evan Hickock broke ground as the first student director; Nelinha Pereira and Lee-Ann Colangelo had serious shoes to fill in taking over the positions of stage managers, and Laurie Beaulieu did an excellent job as prop head.

Guided by advisors Mr. Marchand & Mr. Charbonneau, this talented troop of players took period sets, costumes, and language and turned them into dazzling comic magic once again.

On January 27, the class of '96 hosted the 4th annual Mr. Whaler contest. This contest has captivated students, faculty, and parents of the area. The seventeen male contestants were escorted by the senior girls of the steering committee. Announcing each contestant was the senior class secretary Jennie Vasques.

Some acts of the night included John Tweedie's Richard Simmons act, Miss Piggy performed by Koby Verran and Victor Tavares performing "His eyes is all the sparrow". But it came down to one performance, Eric Arruda's portrayal of a Jamaican experience giving him the title of Mr. Whaler '96.

The JROTC program is one of the most praised organizations here at NBHS. Those who decide ROTC is right for them will find a top-notch program headed by Col. Napoli, whose dedication to the students has made it a success. ROTC prepares students interested in the military, but its members can attest that while doing so it teaches discipline, honor and pride to all of the students.

ROTC remains one of the most active groups here at NBHS. Included among the many events were the presenting of the colors and ushering detail at the mayor's inauguration and ball, security for all college fairs, football games and the chorus concert. As for competitions, the Girls' Victorians II exhibition Drill Team took first place at three exhibition drills in a row without arms.

This year's battalion commander was Michael A. Mueller, a dedicated and disciplined senior. The ROTC fundraisers are always a favorite among the students, this year being no exception. The turkey shoot and pancake breakfast were once again a huge success.

WHERE THE SPIRIT BEGINS

The New Bedford High School cheerleaders kicked off the sports' season with encouraging cheers at the fall sports rally, dancing to a remix of Prince. For the first time ever, they were accompanied by the Football team performance of dancing & stunts. This year's squad was led by senior captain Eric Arruda. Eric, also known as "Mr. Whaler" added a masculine flair to the cheers this year — his powerful voice will be missed in years to come. The team meets three times a week to practice dance steps and new cheers. At cheering camp, they were awarded the spirit stick, and were named most superior squad. Their dedication to practice paid off as the cheerleaders pumped up the crowd at the football games.

Lift Every Voice And Sing

NBHS is famous for its choruses. We owe so much to them, not only for entertaining us with their beautiful voices and energetic dancing, but for helping to show others the kind of talent we have here. Many of the chorus members have participated in the District, Semsba, and All-State competitions. Tom Wall, Jessica Soares, Victor Tavares, and Rachel Bowers were all selected for the ACDA's. Eastern Division Convention High School Honors Choir held this year in Philadelphia. After hearing any of our excellent choruses blow the competition out of the water, the audience often gives a collective sigh of appreciation. It has been said of NBHS by more than one music lover "I had no idea", that they were that good.

Guiding the Process of Change

As headmaster of New Bedford High School, Mr. Joseph S. Oliver is faced with new demanding responsibilities. In his first year as headmaster, Mr. Oliver has shown the charisma necessary in making this High School successful. At New Bedford High the students work together with the faculty and community to make this school a place to be proud of. Mr. Oliver has been in the New Bedford School system for twenty years and has been able to watch the school and student body grow together. He began his career in the New Bedford School Department as a math teacher at NBHS. In college, he majored in math and minored in education, knowing that this was the road he wished to follow. After 10 yrs. in the Computer/Science Dept. he progressed to Vice-Principal at Normandin Jr. High where his leadership skills gave him the reputation of an administrator who cares for his students.

Four years ago he brought that reputation to NBHS as assistant headmaster, serving under Mr. Michael Longo, now assistant superintendent of New Bedford Secondary Schools. Along with Mr. Longo, Mr. Oliver is in the driver's seat of this truly outstanding high school.

To ease the tension from a hard days work, Mr. Oliver hits the racquetball courts, where he reigns supreme. Mr. Oliver is noted for having never lost to a student here at NBHS, and doesn't plan on losing any time soon.

With all the changes in the state regulations concerning the school day and surrounding issues, Mr. Oliver remains dedicated to his top priority, the education of the students. Mr. Oliver believes that "change is a process, not an event", and that it takes time and preparation.

Mr. Oliver believes in helping the students with "realities" that lie ahead in life by setting a good example, and says that through hard work and by setting goals, good things happen. These are wise words the class of '96 should keep in mind for the future. As for now Mr. Oliver and his first senior class share a common bond and an inspiring goal — success.

THE PEACE INCREASE

Ms. B.A. Bizzarro
Assistant Headmaster

Bearing the Torch of Service

Ms. Beverly A. Bizzarro — teacher, ex-dean, the assistant headmaster — started, straight out of college, teaching English here at NBHS and for the last 13 years has served as our illustrious Dean. In fact, she did such a good job that now she is the assistant headmaster with a Gateway 2000 computer instead of an Apple II, a janitor at one door, an ex-student at the other, two housemasters on her phone at the same time, and a year-book staff writer taking up a piece of her office furniture. No wonder she says it's a challenge.

Ms. Bizzarro certainly has her plate full. Besides being the assistant headmaster, she is the faculty advisor to WHY, or Whalers Helping Youth, a chapter of Words Not Weapons, anti-violence activist group. Their main function is to prevent violence from occurring by changing attitudes in a positive manner (also one of her primary focuses as assistant headmaster). They concentrate on young children — helping them deal with violence that may have already occurred and teaching them how to avoid it in the future. She is working on the training session for the WHY members on how to deal with little kids and their sometimes unexpectedly forthright questions. In May, during the Increase the Peace Weeks, there will be a recognition brunch to honor the national figure and various local heroes for their contributions to a greater peace. Later on, there will be the Senior Prom to deal with, and graduation, never mind her job.

Ms. Bizzarro is a first class idealist. She devotes herself to the school and the community and we, the students, are her reason for doing so. Ms. Bizzarro has seen what we can do and is expecting that we all live up to our own potential.

Guiding Us Toward the Future

Ask anyone about the Orlowskis and they'll enthuse for ages about how nice Mr. Orlowski is, and how sweet Mrs. Orlowski is, and how one or the other is so-and-so's favorite teacher. Well, it turns out that in person they live up to their reputations.

He is a shop teacher, she is a typing teacher — together they are the senior class advisors. They love working at NBHS. Teaching life skills and how to succeed is what they do and they are singularly suited to their task. Seeing the kids they've taught grow up makes teaching worthwhile for them. Nothing else is better proof of what teaching can do.

Mrs. Orlowski particularly remembers this year's senior class assembly when Mr. Orlowski, loving husband, stated that behind every woman there was a good man and he was proud to be that man. Mrs. Orlowski may be a good woman, but she's very lucky.

Though perhaps not as involved as the Orlowski's might wish, they believe that this senior class is the best they've seen in the last several years. They are looking forward to great things from it in the future. Some expectations are worth meeting.

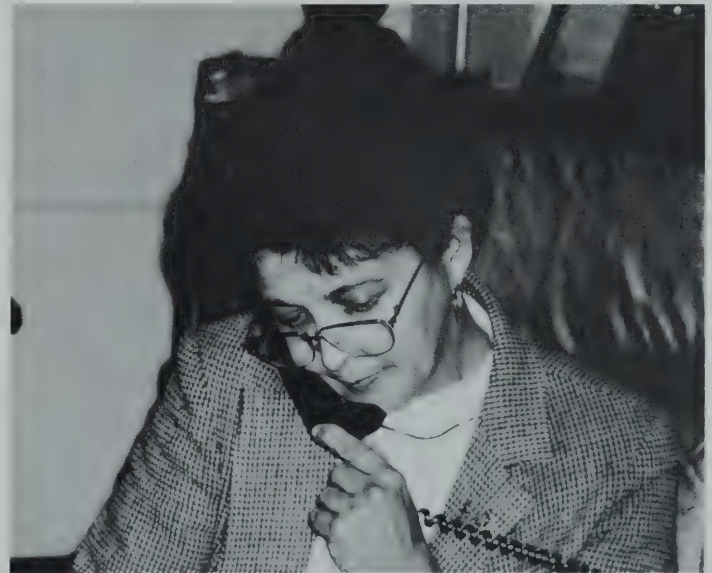

Changing of the Guard

As the Class of 1996 looks forward to graduation, it can be sure that Ms. Rhoda Purcell, who served as a teacher, a guidance counselor, and now as Dean of Students, will long be remembered for her long hours of dedication to better her students' lives. Even as a child, she had never had any doubt as to her future career goal to teach. An attendee of NBHS herself, she was inspired by such teachers as Ms. Hossey and Ms. Blizarro. She had come to believe that "Nothing is more noble than teaching."

Ms. Purcell received her degree in history, and decided to become a teacher at the Senior High level. To her, "teenagers are at a crossroad between child and adult, and to instruct at this level helps to create a bright future for the student, a path for their careers, and an opportunity to mould an aspect of society." Through her 14 year career as an instructor at NBHS, she had become extensively involved in clubs, and enjoyed the friendships she forged with her students. Even so, Ms. Purcell had wanted the opportunity to interrelate with students on a greater level. The opportunity presented itself when Mr. Colnan offered her the position to become a guidance counselor. She pursued the position, and what resulted was 10 fruitful years as a guidance counselor, helping teenagers resolve their problems while she made new friends.

As the Class of '96 prepared to enter its senior year, the position of Dean of Students was offered to her. She had to seriously consider the different qualities and talents the job of Dean entailed. Ms. Purcell decided to accept this new position, which came with new responsibilities. She was gratified to be aided by the Class of '96, a class of students including John Tweedie, and Mark Carvalho — that impressed her with its cooperation, patience, kindness, and sense of humor — and will stand out in her memory as her first graduating class. As our class prepares for the future, and Ms. Purcell settles into her new role as Dean, the one thing she wants our class to remember is "the golden rule that was taught at New Bedford High School."

"Wherever you go, whatever you do, put your best foot forward."

— Dean Purcell

Preparing Students for Reality

Reality is that computers are, as Mr. Leblanc puts it, "an intrinsic part of life". As a computer programming instructor, he feels it is his duty to prepare his students to enter a world that's been changed by the invention of the computer.

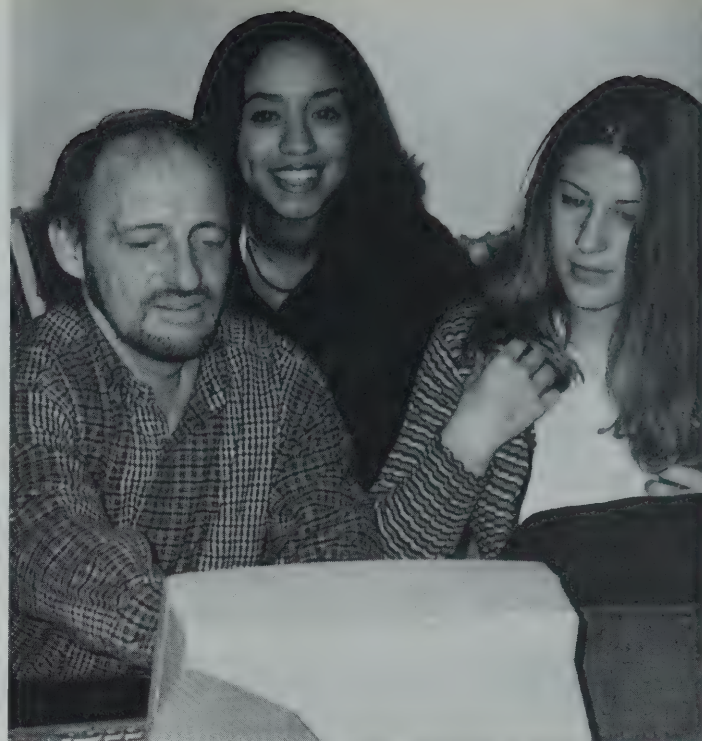

Dedication is the most important attribute needed to become a great teacher in today's world. But for Mr. Leblanc, dedication to teaching goes beyond a good relationship with students. With a degree in engineering from UMass, he took a job in private industry. However, after three years he was itching for something more rewarding. Proving again that money can't always buy satisfaction, he took a large pay cut to begin a career in education.

From a student's point of view, Mr. Leblanc relates with his pupils in a natural manner. Good-natured joking with students provides a positive classroom atmosphere. He has been the source of inspiration for many who have gone into the field of computer programming, and finds his rewards when he sees the results of his teaching.

Mr. Leblanc is also the advisor to NBHS's Computer Club. The Computer Club teaches people how to use the Internet, performs the publishing activities of school newsletters, contributes to the schools home page on the World Wide Web, and competes as a programming team at area competitions.

Outside of school Mr. Leblanc enjoys antiquing, reading and of course, computers, but the satisfaction he gets from teaching is more than enough to keep him happy. As a final note, Mr. Leblanc stresses the need to maintain an up-to-date computer system here at NBHS, once again showing his interest in a quality education for his students.

Mr. Leblanc's enthusiasm for his work cannot help but be contagious to his students.

Learning What The Realities Are

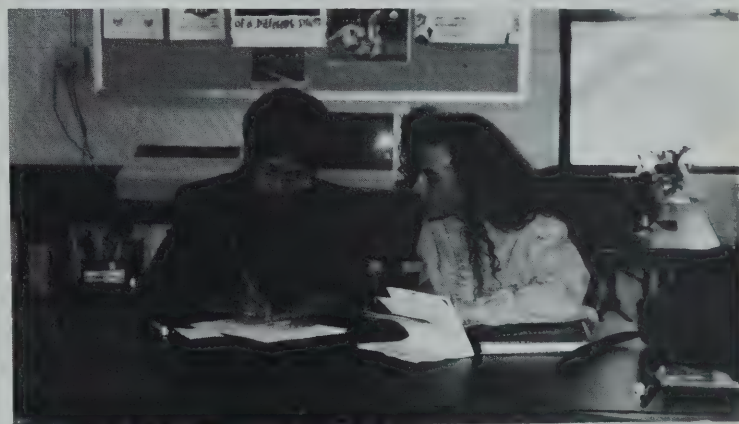

Miss Lisa Decelles is a crisis counselor for the gold and blue house students. Miss Decelles' role as a crisis counselor is to meet with students on a needed basis, dealing with problems ranging from relationships and family issues to depression and suicide. Before becoming a crisis counselor at NBHS, Miss Decelles worked for two years as a Mental Health Counselor for the Center for Health and Human Services.

Miss Decelles became a counselor because of the influence she got from her psychology teacher in high school. He taught her that there is a lot of life after high school. She loves being a crisis counselor, because she loves teenagers and the teenage years are often the hardest times in our lives, when they are reputed to be fun.

Miss Decelles likes to work out at the gym in her spare time. Working out relieves stress and contributes to good physical and mental health. She also likes to ski and garden.

Miss Decelles thinks she is most noted for being young. Her students benefit from that fact, because she is able to relate to them better. She is also supportive and a good listener. She is the only support that some students have available to them. Miss Decelles plans on helping the students with the realities that lie ahead, "by getting them to believe what the realities are."

Ms. Decelles meets the tasks she is assigned with care, be they in counseling or for the Ambassadors, the club she advises.

In the classroom, afterschool, at serious or fun events, our faculty & staff are always there.

Teaching Lessons of Life

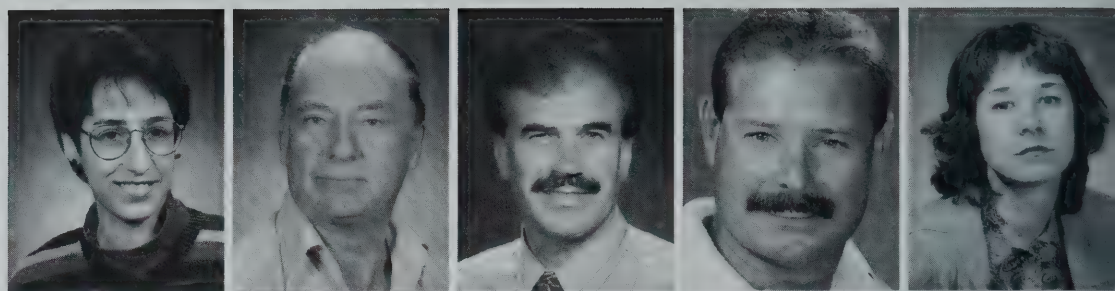

Mr. Stephen Fraga is a very inspirational teacher to many students. In 1966, Mr. Fraga graduated from our own NBHS, and pursued his education at UMASS Dartmouth where he received his degree in 1970. He began his career at Keith Junior High for 3 yrs. and Normandin Junior High for 1 yr. After that he came to our beloved NBHS, where had remained to teach the Class of '96 and future generations. Mr. Fraga reminds his students often that you never stop learning and he practices what he preaches when he received his masters in 1993 from Cambridge College. Being a well-rounded individual, Mr. Fraga enjoys spending his free time reading and oriental painting. He enjoys teaching because he feels that his students can learn something that will help them personally or in the future. When teaching he tries to get his students to look within themselves and think deeper about themselves when it comes to learning. He feels that if his students have learned something to better themselves, then he has succeeded.

He advises the Class of '96 to "believe in what is best about yourselves and don't always believe what people say about you." He is most noted by students for his various approaches to teaching. Some know him for his sense of humor while others know him as the more serious teacher. Either way, the message that he relates to his students is one that helps them to not only better themselves but the lives that they live.

Monica, Jason, and Brian enjoy a relaxing lunch together before rushing off to their next class!

Although the year-book staff spends many hours putting together the finished product you see here. We are all fully awake that it could not have been possible without the support of the people featured in this section. The following pages are our way of saying thank you, not only for the financial support that was so generously given but also to give best wishes to the class of 1996.

Congratulations Julie!

You did an outstanding job in both swimming and in academics. We are so proud of you. We hope that all your future dreams come true.

DEAREST ALYSON,
WE HAVE ALL GROWN UP TOGETHER, YOU
AS A CHILD, AND WE AS PARENTS. AND, WE-'VE MADE IT "THRU THE RAIN" IN GREAT SHAPE.

WE MAY HAVE SOMETIMES DISAGREED,
EVEN ARGUED, BUT NEVER, EVER DID WE EV-ER STOP LOVING EACH OTHER.

AS YOU PREPARE TO MOVE INTO THE NEXT
PHASE OF YOUR LIFE, TAKE WITH YOU ALL
THAT YOU HAVE LEARNED, ALL THAT YOU HAVE EXPERIENCED, AND ALL OF THE VALUES
THAT YOU HAVE HELD UP AS IMPORTANT.

GO FORWARD WITH AN OPEN MIND, EA-GER TO LEARN AND TO EXPERIENCE ALL THAT LIFE HAS TO OFFER. GO FORTH WITH THE UN-DERSTANDING THAT THE ENTIRE WORLD LIES
BEFORE YOU AND THAT ANYTHING YOU CAN IMAGINE CAN BE. NEVER BE AFRAID TO REACH FOR THE HIGHEST, BRIGHTEST STAR BE-CAUSE IF YOU SHOULD FALL SHORT YOU CAN ALWAYS TRY AGAIN, AND AGAIN, AND ...
FOR THE ONLY TRUE FAILURE IS ONE WHO NEVER TRIES.

MOST OF ALL ALYSON, GO FORWARD
KNOWING THAT ALL OF OUR LOVE AND RE-SPECT WILL ALWAYS BE THERE WITH YOU,
AND IN IT'S STRENGTH YOU CAN ALWAYS FIND PEACE.

"CARPE DIEM" DAUGHTER, DON'T MISS A
SECOND OF WHAT LIES BEFORE YOU, FOR IT WILL NEVER COME AGAIN. DON'T JUST REACH FOR A STAR, GRAB ONE AND TAKE IT FOR A RIDE.

ALL OUR LOVE FOREVER,
MOM & DAD

The secret of joy in work is contained in one word — excellence. To know how to do something well is to enjoy it.

Pearl S. Buck

Matt, Tim, Tanya, Alison, Barika, Aly & Kat:

Through your hard work you have achieved success — and excellence. I am so proud of all of you. Each of you venture into the real world with my respect, admiration, and a piece of my heart.

Love,
Ms. B

“Some people come into our lives and quickly go. Some stay for a while, leave footprints in our hearts, and we are never ever the same.”

"There are those who pass like ships in the night whom meet for a moment, then sail out of sight, with never a backwards glance of regret; folks we know briefly then quickly forget. Then there are friends who sail together through quiet waters and stormy weather helping each other through joy and through strife. And they are the kind who give meaning to life."

John,
Your friendship brought me good times and your love gave me warmth. You helped me to

yours forever.

Jessica,
as the rain hits the window pain, it reminds us of the tears that we shed through the years. The memories of our childhood always seemed good as for the secrets that we shared shall never be bared. I don't know what the future may unfold, for it may be bold. But one thing is sure, you will always be my sister forever more.

To Ross, with respect & affection:

Still I Rise

You may write me down in history
With your bitter, twisted lies,
You may trod me in the very dirt
But still, like dust, I'll rise.

Does my sassiness upset you?
Why are you beset with gloom?
'Cause I walk like I've got oil wells
Pumping in my living room.

Just like moons and like suns,
With the certainty of tides,
Just like hopes springing high,
Still I'll rise.

Did you want to see me broken?
Bowed head and lowered eyes?
Shoulders falling down like teardrops,
Weakened by my soulful cries.

Does my haughtiness offend you?
Don't you take it awful hard
'Cause I laugh like I've got gold mines
Diggin' in my own back yard.

Out of the huts of history's shame
I rise
Up from a past that's rooted in pain
I rise
I'm a black ocean, leaping and wide,
Welling and swelling I bear in the tide.

Leaving behind nights of terror and fear
I rise
Into a daybreak that's wondrously clear
I rise
Bringing the gifts that my ancestors gave,
I am the dream and the hope of the slave.
I rise
I rise
I rise.

— Maya Angelou
